What people say

WHITBREAD

We order hundreds of Virgin Experience gift vouchers on a monthly basis for our employee loyalty scheme. There is a variety of experiences available which means there is something for everyone. The process of ordering the vouchers is seamless and efficient. The Virgin Incentives team are always on hand to support and have been great to work with.

O.C.TANNER

From when I first joined the company over 10 years ago, to when I started managing the Virgin account, I have not had anything but a great experience. We have always felt that an anniversary at work should be remembered by an experience, rather than an object to sit in a cupboard.

These experiences are what we put forward to every client, and always what we offer for promotions and when clients want a one-off award. The level of experiences available is fantastic and a reason why our business with Virgin is in it's best ever, and it only likely to grow.

PRIZESHARK
COMPETITIONS SOLUTIONS

We use Virgin Experience Days Gift Cards on a number of our client campaigns, and they always prove to be really popular.

Our clients really enjoy the variety of experiences they can choose from and the numerous locations available across the UK. This works really well on some of our redemption platforms where the winners could be based anywhere in the country as there is always something great they could choose close to their home.
