What people say

JUST SOME OF THE ORGANIZATIONS WE'RE DELIGHTED TO HELP

SENCON

We set out to reward our staff for going above and beyond in their roles and also as a work anniversary award.

We rewarded people with a gift card as there was a great range of activities/events and the service was very efficient.

From when I first joined the company over 10 years ago, to when I started managing the Virgin account, I have not had anything but a great experience. We have always felt that an anniversary at work should be remembered by an experience, rather than an object to sit in a cupboard.

These experiences are what we put forward to every client, and always what we offer for promotions and when clients want a one-off award. The level of experiences available is fantastic and a reason why our business with Virgin is in it's best ever, and it only likely to grow.

We use Virgin's Gift Cards on a number of our client campaigns, and they always prove to be really popular.

Our clients really enjoy the variety of experiences they can choose from and the numerous locations available across the nation. This works really well on some of our redemption platforms where the winners could be based anywhere in the country as there is always something great they could choose close to their home.
